Club Delegates Report Splendid Annual Convention

Delegates representing Torrance Woman's club at the 46th annual convention of Los Angeles District, C.F.W.C., held last week in Long Beach, were Mrs. Chris Jones, president; Mrs. Gordon Smith, Samuel V. Rauss and Paul F. Vonderahe.

Mrs. Joseph C. Wenger was elected district president to succeed Mrs. R. W. Stryker, presiding officer of the convention. Daily business sessions were held in Municipal auditorium and luncheons and dinners were in Hilton Hotel.

Inspirational programs for delegates and onlookers featured excellent speakers and reports showed outstanding accomplishments of women in clubdom. Much in evidence for this convention, which had as its theme "World Leadership Through Federation," was the force that women have in the world, the good they can accomplish through leadership.

Rev. Milton G. Gabrielson, pastor of Bay Shore Congregational church, in his stirring address Wednesday afternoon discussed "Leadership Through Spiritual Training." Nadina R. Kavinoky, M.D., appearing on Thursday morning's program, chose as her topic "What is Sex Education," in which she developed the prediction that within a very few years families of five or six children will be common, marriages more stable and having babies will be eased through swift advances in medicine. Speaker during Thursday afternoon was Lawrence D. Pritchard, executive of Los Angeles Bank of America who discussed leadership through the community. Ellis L. Spackman, featured speaker on the concluding night of the convention, professor of San Bernardino college, chose "Bearing Gifts to the Greeks" as a vehicle to express the great need for women to help rebuild that pauperized nation.

Attend Lecture
 Joining Torrance Women's club members and their friends at the Valley lecture in the clubhouse last Wednesday morning were members of the Modern Literature Club of Torrance High School, their president, Miss Nancy Ann Whyte and their sponsor Miss Ethel R. Burnham.

Sigma Rho Chapter Of Delphian Society At Initial Meeting
 A representative group of Torrance women, charter members of Sigma Rho Chapter of the Delphian society, met Thursday morning in the City library lecture room for their initial meeting and the presentation of their charter.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Lena Latham Goble, of Los Angeles, Pacific Coast director of Delphians, who installed the chapter following an inspirational talk.
 Ruby Nash Wilcox, field director and sponsor of the Torrance chapter, served as hostess and Mrs. Mable Clint, of Los Angeles, field secretary, was director.

Chosen to participate in the first discussion program Thursday morning, May 1, were Mesdames G. J. Derouin, Edwin B. Brown, H. E. Carr and John H. Ritchee.

Representatives of the group will attend a luncheon and Delphian assembly to be held May 23 in Ambassador Hotel.

A few memberships are still available to complete the limited quota, according to Mrs. Wilcox. Interested persons may contact Mrs. Derouin at Torrance 147.
